

JS-6

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
9 CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
10 SOUTHERN DIVISION
11

12
13 LYNN HERNANDEZ, et al.,

14
15 Plaintiffs,

16 v.

17 BAXTER HEALTHCARE
18 CORPORATION, et al.,

19 Defendants.
20
21
22

} Case No.: SACV 15-01075-CJC(DFMx)

} ORDER GRANTING DEFENDANTS'
} MOTION TO TRANSFER VENUE

23
24 I. INTRODUCTION & BACKGROUND
25

26 On June 2, 2015, Plaintiffs Lynn Hernandez, Melanie Lira, Gloria Jiminez, and 27 Angela Hernandez-Miranda (collectively, "Plaintiffs") brought this action in Orange
28 County Superior Court against Defendants Baxter Healthcare Corporation; Cardinal

1 Health, Inc.; Cardinal Health 100, Inc.; Cardinal Health 200, LLC; Cardinal Health 201,
2 Inc.; Cardinal Health 411, LLC (collectively, “Defendants”); and Home Dialysis
3 Therapies of San Diego (“HDT”), who has been dismissed from this case. (Dkt. No. 1
4 [“Notice of Removal”]; Exh. A. [“Compl.”].) The Complaint alleged product liability
5 claims against the Defendants arising from the illness and death of Plaintiffs’ decedent,
6 Mario Hernandez (“Decedent”). Plaintiffs contend that Mr. Hernandez’s death is 7 attributable either to a defect in a Baxter product known as a MiniCap.

8
9 Defendants removed this action to this Court on July 7. On August 25, this Court
10 denied Plaintiffs’ motion for remand and granted Defendants’ motion to dismiss HDT
11 from the action. Currently before the Court is Defendants’ motion to transfer venue to 12 the Southern District of California (Dkt. No. 17). For the following reasons, the Court
13 GRANTS Defendants’ motion to transfer venue.¹

14 15 II. ANALYSIS

16
17 A district court has discretion to transfer a civil action “for the convenience of 18 parties and witnesses, in the interest of justice” to “any other district or division where it
19 might have been brought.” 28 U.S.C. § 1404(a). Under section 1404(a), two findings are 20 required for proper transfer: (1) the transferee district court is one where the action might
21 have been brought, and (2) the convenience of the parties and witnesses and the interest
22 of justice favor transfer. Hatch v. Reliance Ins. Co., 758 F.2d 409, 414 (9th Cir. 1985).
23 A court may consider multiple factors in determining whether the interests of justice
24 favor transfer, including: “(1) the location where the relevant agreements were negotiated
25 and executed, (2) the state that is most familiar with the governing law, (3) the plaintiff’s
26

27
28 ¹ Having read and considered the papers presented by the parties, the Court finds this matter appropriate for disposition without a hearing. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 78; Local Rule 7-15. Accordingly, the hearing set for September 21, 2015 at 1:30 p.m. is hereby vacated and off calendar.

1 choice of forum, (4) the respective parties' contacts with the forum, (5) the contacts
2 relating to the plaintiff's cause of action in the chosen forum, (6) the differences in the 3 costs of litigation in the two forums, (7) the availability of compulsory process to compel
4 attendance of unwilling non-party witnesses, and (8) the ease of access to sources of 5 proof," in addition to the relevant public policy of the forum state. Jones v. GNC
6 Franchising, Inc., 211 F.3d 495, 498–99 (9th Cir. 2000). The moving party bears the 7 burden of demonstrating that transfer is appropriate. Williams v. Bowman, 157 F. Supp.
8 2d 1103, 1106 (N.D. Cal. 2001). District courts have broad discretion to adjudicate
9 motions for transfer according to an individualized, case-by-case consideration, Jones,
10 211 F.3d at 498, and must undertake a "flexible and individualized analysis" of relevant
11 factors, Stewart Org., Inc. v. Ricoh Corp., 487 U.S. 22, 29 (1988).

12
13 Here, the parties do not dispute that this action could have been brought in the 14 Southern District of California, since the parties are diverse and Defendants concede that 15 they are subject to personal jurisdiction in the Southern District of California. (Dkt. No.
16 17 at 4.) Additionally, venue is proper there because "a substantial part of the events or 17 omissions" giving rise to Plaintiffs' claims against Defendants occurred in the Southern 18 District. See 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2). Decedent received home dialysis treatment there;
19 he used the MiniCap there; and he ultimately contracted an infection and died there.
20 Accordingly, the first requirement of §1404(a) is satisfied.

21
22 The interests of justice also favor transfer. The first Jones factor—where the 23 "relevant agreements were negotiated and executed"—favors transfer because, although 24 no agreements are at issue here, all of the relevant events to Plaintiffs' claims occurred in 25 the Southern District of California. Decedent received home dialysis treatment there, he 26 used the allegedly defective MiniCap there, he was treated for his ensuing infection there,
27 and he passed away there. The second Jones factor, which looks to whether one venue is 28 more familiar with the governing state law than another, neither weighs for or against

1 transfer, since the Central and Southern Districts are equally familiar with California state
2 law. The third Jones factor—the plaintiff’s choice of forum—would normally cut
3 strongly against transfer. However, when “a plaintiff does not reside in the [selected]
4 forum, the Court may afford plaintiff’s choice considerably less weight.” Vu v. Ortho-
5 McNeil Pharm., Inc., 602 F. Supp. 2d. 1151, 1156 (N.D. Cal. 2009); see also In re Apple,
6 602 F.3d 909, 913 (8th Cir. 2010) (“[The] practice of according deference [to a plaintiff’s
7 choice of forum], however, is based on the assumption that the plaintiff’s choice will be a
8 convenient one.”). Here, there is apparently no good reason for Plaintiffs’ filing in the 9 Central District aside from the fact that their counsel is located here. But it is well-settled 10 that the location of counsel is “irrelevant and improper for consideration in determining 11 the question of transfer of venue.” In re Horseshoe Ent., 337 F.3d 429, 434 (5th Cir.
12 2003); see also Vu, 602 F. Supp. 2d. at 1157 (granting motion to transfer when the only 13 connection between the plaintiffs and the original venue was the location of plaintiffs’
14 counsel). This analysis also informs the fourth and fifth Jones factors—the “respective 15 parties’ contacts with the forum,” and “the contacts relating to the plaintiff’s cause of 16 action in the chosen forum.” Jones, 211 F.3d at 498. Simply put, there are no such 17 contacts, or at least none that are relevant to this action.

18
19 The sixth and seventh Jones factors weigh neither for nor against transfer, as the 20 parties have not provided the Court with any reason to believe that litigation will be more
21 or less expensive in the Southern District or that the availability of compulsory process
22 will be implicated. And finally, the eighth Jones factor—the ease of access to sources of 23 proof—militates for transfer. No evidence which is relevant to this action, as far as the 24 Court can tell, is located in the Central District of California. By contrast, considerable 25 evidence as to Decedent’s illness and death, as well as the MiniCap he used, is located in 26 the Southern District of California.

1 Plaintiffs object that Defendants have not specifically identified particular
2 witnesses by name, their locations, and the content of their potential testimony. It is true
3 that some courts ruling on discretionary motions to transfer have required “affidavits or 4 declarations” from the party seeking transfer which “identify key witnesses and [give] a
5 generalized statement of their anticipated testimony.” E. & J. Gallo Winery v. F. & P.
6 S.p.A., 899 F. Supp. 465, 466–67 (E.D. Cal. 1994). Here, however, it is plain from the 7 pleadings that many witnesses and a great deal of evidence is located in the Southern 8 District of California. And there is no connection at all between this action, or any of the 9 events which precipitated it, and the Central District of California. “A choice of forum 10 supported only by the fact that it was chosen . . . cannot prevail under § 1404(a)” against 11 Defendants’ showing here that litigation will be more convenient in the Southern District.
12 Pacific Car & Foundry Co. v. Pence, 403 F.2d 949, 955 (9th Cir. 1968). Accordingly,
13 Defendants have met their burden of demonstrating that the interest of justice will be 14 served by discretionary transfer. Defendants’ motion to transfer venue to the Southern 15 District of California is GRANTED.

16 17 III. CONCLUSION

18
19 For the foregoing reasons, Defendants’ motion to transfer venue is GRANTED.

20
21
22
23
24 DATED: September 10, 2015

25
26
CORMAC J. CARNEY

27 UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE
28